

Subject:

Family Timeline

Page of

The form consists of a central grid area and two decorative header/footer sections. The grid is bounded by a thick vertical line on the left and a thick vertical line on the right. It contains six horizontal rows. Each row is divided into 12 columns by vertical lines. Each of these 12 columns is further divided into 10 smaller sub-columns by thin vertical lines, creating a fine grid. Small diamond-shaped markers are placed at the intersections of the thick vertical lines and the horizontal lines between rows. Above the grid, there are 16 diagonal lines sloping upwards from left to right, each starting with a small diamond marker. Below the grid, there are 16 diagonal lines sloping downwards from left to right, each ending with a small diamond marker. The entire grid area is enclosed in a thin L-shaped border at the top-left and bottom-right corners.

Prepared by:

Check if continued on other side